Providing Flight Status Updates

Clear communication is essential when it comes to travel. Because flight details can change quickly, staying informed is more important than ever. To help you and your customers plan ahead, ALG Vacations® is introducing a new booking feature on ALGVacations.com that provides timely flight status updates.

Traveler Information

Bookings made with Apple Vacations, Travel Impressions, Funjet Vacations, and United Vacations® will require you to elect or decline providing contact information to the airline booked.

Benefits of this feature include:

- Sharing contact information with the airline allows direct, immediate contact for updates
- Soonest possible alerts of issues that would occur within 72 hours prior to departure, like delays related to weather or mechanical issues
- These personal details are shared and used only in the case of changes in flight status

The email address entered in the Traveler #1 Adult section of the reservation will be shared with the airline. Once the booking is confirmed, this email cannot be changed.

The email address and phone number may belong to you or your customer, depending on which email was entered at booking. This information will also be used to send eDocs (travel itineraries) and any schedule changes.

To protect privacy, this information will never be sold or shared for any purpose beyond flight-related updates.
